Arabs Strive To Find Unity

By The Associated Press

A summit conference of Arab leaders opens in Khartoum Tuesday to forge a unified policy toward Israel, but divisions among the Arabs on the civil war in Yemen and relations with the West may diminish the cordiality of the meeting.

Algerian President Houari Boumedienne is apparently reluctant to attend the conference in the Sudanese capital because he fears moderate leaders will prevail in policy making.

Foreign ministers of 13 Arab nations met in Khartoum Sunday and approved the agenda for the summit. Egyptian sources said the ministers regard the dispute over Yemen as foremost among inter-Arab feuds. Egypt backs the Republic in Yemen against the Saudi-backed rebels.

Divided On West
The Arab world is also divided in its stance toward the West. Eight Arab nations broke relations with Britain and the United States, accusing them of aiding Israel in the June 5-10 war against the Arabs. But five other Arab nations kept diplomatic relations with the two Western powers.

Two of the five, Tunisia and Jordan, touched off a dispute at the foreign ministers meeting by pushing for a plan to improve relations with the West. Most foreign ministers argued that the question of continuing the embargo on oil shipments to the United States and Britain should be dealt with at the summit level.

Reports in Cairo of deeper Soviet involvement on the Egyptian-Republican side of the Yemeni civil war dimmed hopes for settlement of the 5-year-old conflict. Yemeni President Abdullah Al-Sallal conferred secretly in Yemen with a Soviet delegation Friday, then flew to Cairo for talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Repatriation Now

Meanwhile, the repatriation of Arab refugees to the Israeli-occupied west bank of the Jordan River continued to lag. Only 1,388 refugees straggled across the bridges Sunday. With only 11,392 refugees repatriated by Sunday evening, officials said it was unlikely more than 20,000 in all could be returned home before the Israeli deadline of Aug. 31. United Nations officials aiding the refugees estimate the total number east of the river at 170,000, while Jordan claims the total exceeds 200,000.

Israel accepted a proposal by Gen. Odd Bull, the U.N. ceasefire observer chief, to extend indefinitely an arrangement whereby neither Egypt nor Israeli ships use the shut-down Suez Canal. Egypt was reported to have accepted Bull's proposal too.

Griffin Backing Desalting Plants For Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., announced Sunday he will co-sponsor a resolution urging this country to rally international support for construction of nuclear desalting plants in the Middle East.

He said he will join Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., in sponsoring the resolution Monday.

Rockwell Burial With Honor Gets Protest Of Vets

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—A veterans' group today protested against plans to bury George Lincoln Rockwell in a national cemetery with full military honors.

Party members were awaiting a Defense Department decision on whether Rockwell, leader of the anti-Negro and anti-Jewish stormtrooper organization, can be buried Tuesday at the Culpepper, Va., National Cemetery, 65 miles southwest of

Hearing Aug. 31

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—A psychiatric hearing for John C. Patler, 29, accused of murdering Commander George Lincoln Rockwell of the American Nazi party, Patler's preliminary hearing was thereupon postponed until Aug. 31.

Washington. Rockwell's accused assassin, John C. Patler, 29, faced a preliminary hearing in Arlington County Court.

Attorneys for Patler, an expelled American Nazi official, said he would plead innocent to a charge of murder. He is held in $50,000 bail.

Police charge Patler shot Rockwell Friday as the 49-year-old "fuhrer" sat in his car at a shopping center across a busy street from the run-down 23-acre estate that is party headquarters.

Find Murder Weapon

Patler was arrested shortly afterward a few blocks away. Police recovered Saturday what they identify as the murder weapon—a 7.62 mm semi-automatic Mauser pistol. It was found in a stream three blocks from the shooting scene. Its ownership has not been determined, police said.

Rockwell was shot once through the chest, authorities reported. Two shots were fired through the windshield of his car and it was initially believed the other bullet struck him in the head.

Objecting to the party's plan to bury the 49-year-old Rockwell at Culpepper, Robert Miller, chief of staff for the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Virginia, said: "It is wrong for a man living against the ideals we have fought for should be laid to rest beside comrades who have given their lives for the country's freedom."

Rockwell's family wanted to bury him at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, near the home of his father, retired vaudeville and radio comedian George "Doc" Rockwell.

Was Navy Veteran

However, the slain man's brother, Robert K. Rockwell of Barrington, R.I., said Sunday "the family no longer wishes to contest the claim" of the Nazis to have the funeral arrangements.

Robert Rockwell said he was "quite sure" no members of the family would attend the services.

As a Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean War, Rockwell, honorably discharged, appeared qualified for burial in a national cemetery, with full military honors. These would include an honor guard, use of an American flag to drape the casket and the playing of Taps.

Brian Epstein, Beatles Agent, Is Found Dead

LONDON (AP)—A post-mortem probably will be held to determine what killed Brian Epstein, but one friend said the 32-year-old discoverer of the Beatles had been in poor health for months.

Epstein, whose promotion of the Beatles and other pop music stars made him a millionaire, was found dead in bed at his $100,000 home near Buckingham Palace Sunday.

"No notes were found at the house," said a spokesman for Scotland Yard. "As far as we are concerned there are no suspicious circumstances."

Car Makers Ready Offers To Workers

DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry officials today penciled finishing touches on contract proposals they will ask nearly 700,000 United Auto Workers Union members to accept.

But the offers, expected to be laid on bargaining tables Tuesday, almost certainly will be rejected by the UAW.

The economic offers will be the first by General Motors Corp. in the eight weeks of bargaining that began July 10. Current three-year labor pacts will expire eight days after submission of the company proposals.

The union, meanwhile, is heavily engaged in strike preparations. UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock has said there will be no contract extension beyond Sept. 6 for the firm picked by the union as the target in its contract demands.

The UAW concedes its demands are the "longest and most ambitious" in its history. They include a guaranteed income, a share of corporate profits and a "substantial" wage increase above the $3.41 hourly the government estimates the average auto worker is paid. Gains in working conditions and fringe benefits also are sought.

Both sides agree there has been little progress in bargaining to date.

The union's highest-ranking officers are expected to meet Wednesday and choose one of the Big Three firms as the target for a contract that would become the pattern for the industry.

Traditionally, the UAW sets out to force a contract at one firm by strike or other means, then to gain acceptance of the same pact at the other companies.

Last week, union members voted overwhelmingly to authorize their national bargaining committees call a strike if and when walkouts are deemed necessary.

UAW executives met Saturday and Sunday with local union members in seven cities "to acquaint them with the strike assistance program of the international union."

Johnson Okays Senate Try For UN Role In War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new effort by some senators to bring the United Nations into action on the Vietnam war appears to be generating with President Johnson's tacit approval.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield's statement that the administration is interested in seeing U.N. action on a long-dormant U.S. resolution for reconvening the Geneva conference sparked new inspection of this possible avenue toward peace negotiations.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in an interview urged Johnson to ask the U.N. Security Council to try to get the South Vietnamese government to open negotiations after its election Sept. 3.

New Govt. Role

William P. Bundy, undersecretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs said Sunday, however, the United States probably would stay entirely out of peace talks if the new Saigon government found a way to negotiate with the Viet Cong and requested U.S. assistance.

Bundy also said the United States would "take very seriously" any request by an elected South Vietnamese government that bombing policy be altered.

A House subcommittee sharply criticizing U.S. aid programs in South Vietnam said Sunday night that failure to make substantial reforms "could lead to a reassessment of the U.S. position."

The report from the Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee said U.S. officials "are as much at fault" as the South Vietnamese government, but declared that unless the South Vietnamese take action "the prospects of success are minimal, and the advisability of U.S. involvement is questionable."

Meets With LBJ

Mansfield said in an interview Saturday he believes Johnson will act to put the issue before the Security Council. He had met with Johnson earlier last week.

Presidential action to touch off U.N. discussion of the war could be interpreted in the Senate as an attempt to offset growing opposition to the course he is following in Vietnam.

16 Sky Divers Die In Erie

HURON, Ohio (AP)—Intensified searching was under way over Lake Erie today for 14 missing sky divers who plunged through an overcast and strong winds into Lake Erie Sunday after missing their target by 10 miles.

Eighteen veteran sky divers made the ill-fated jump from a converted World War II Liberator bomber. Only two were known to have survived, both rescued, and two bodies—including that of a woman who celebrated her wedding day by sky diving—were recovered.

Two others on the plane missed the jump because they waited for a second pass from a higher altitude.

Searchers scouring the lake beneath flare lights Sunday night found only two helmets, two parachutes and a glove.

Helicopters, planes and an armada of Coast Guard, Air Force, Navy, Army and private boats and planes stepped up the search over 40-square mile area of Lake Erie today.

Coast Guard Lt. Paul Potter said chances of the 14 surviving the night in the 72-degree water were "slim."

Exactly how the 18 Ohio parachute enthusiasts—most of whom had more than 100 jumps to their credit—missed their target by 10 miles was unknown.

"As far as I knew, I was right where I was supposed to be," the pilot, Robert Karns of Ver-million, told Ohio Highway Patrolman John Shimp.

Shimp quoted Karns as saying he was flying by a radar fix furnished him by the Federal Aviation Agency tower at Hopkins International Airport in Cleveland and a Loran Station at Amherst.

The divers were unprepared for the landing in water. None had floating equipment, the two survivors said. Each carried about 10 pounds of equipment.

Patricia C. Lowmsbury of Akron—who had celebrated her wedding on June 28, 1964 by sky diving with her husband—was found dead in the water.

"She loved sky diving," said her husband, Alvin, as he waited on the dock as the Coast Guard returned her body ashore Sunday night.

Lowmsbury, an iron worker, had made the wedding sky dive with his bride. He quit jumping earlier this year after suffering his fourth broken leg.

The other known drowning victim was Doris Kitchen Jr., 33, also of Akron.

One of the missing, Michael Thiem of Springfield, had told friends before the jump that he didn't like the idea of going. It was too close to Lake Erie and he couldn't swim, he told them.

Winds were estimated at 58 miles an hour at 20,000 feet up.

Robert Coy of Springfield, one of the survivors, said, "I was shocked and flabbergasted to see that I was over the lake. We assumed we were over the field."

"As soon as I broke out of the clouds, I knew something was wrong," Coy added. "All I saw was water." Coy had made 262 previous jumps.

"The waves were over my head and water was swishing into my mouth," he added. Coy said he stayed afloat by making an air pocket within his crash helmet.

Twenty-three persons had been scheduled for the flight, but only 20 made it. The patrol said the jump was attended by parachutists from various parts of Ohio, and not sponsored by any one group.

Cong Keep Up Mortar Attacks Vs. Marines

Kill 10 Yanks Wound 106 And KO 12 Choppers

SAIGON (AP)—The Communists kept up their intensified mortar and rocket attacks for the second day today, killing 10 U.S. Marines, wounding 106 and destroying or damaging 12 helicopters.

The barrages against two Leatherneck bases in the northern part of South Vietnam followed a series of 12 mortar shellings up and down the country Sunday which killed or wounded more than 300 persons, most of them civilians.

U.S. officials considered the attacks another Communist effort to scare the South Vietnamese from voting in the presidential election next Sunday. It had been months since the Communists made a coordinated effort like they did Sunday.

In the air against North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced that last week matched the worst previous week for warplane losses, with 15 down over the North. Two planes—an Air Force F4 Phantom and an F100 Super Sabre—went down Saturday and only one of the four crewmen aboard was rescued. A total of 22 fliers was reported missing during the week.

B52s Kill Police

A delayed report from the command said U.S. B52 bombers killed 11 South Vietnamese policemen last Monday in the southern half of the demilitarized zone (DMZ) between North and South Vietnam. The command said the target area had been approved in advance by the South Vietnamese province chief and that all bombs hit in the approved area.

Communist gunners struck today at a Marine helicopter airstrip near Da Nang and at the Leatherneck base at Dong Ha, seven miles south of the DMZ.

Romney Is Ozarks Star

OSAGE BEACH, Mo. (AP)—

Michigan Gov. George Romney flew into the Ozarks Sunday night to assume what was likely to be the starring role in the sixth annual Midwestern Governors Conference.

Romney, an undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination and the man the latest Gallup Poll says could beat President Johnson today, was among the last of the 13 Midwestern chief executives to arrive.

Three of the Democratic governors attending the conference said in separate interviews Sunday that Johnson would have difficulty in their states under present conditions.

"At this particular time he couldn't carry the state," said Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

By next year, added Iowa

Gov. Harold E. Hughes, Johnson should have "a 50-50 chance in any state, but there's no doubt he would have a tough race."

Gov. Robert Docking, a Democrat in strongly Republican Kansas, said Johnson at this time could carry Kansas only if there was a "national Democratic landslide like the one against Goldwater."

Taking the opposite view were

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois and Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, both Democrats.

"There's no question in my mind but what he is going to be re-elected next year," Kerner said.

Smith said Johnson "would win handsomely again today" in West Virginia.

Former Trooper At Manistique Dies In Crash

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Local and federal authorities today investigated the plane crash which killed a State Police trooper and seriously injured a man Sunday.

Trooper Dale DeCoe, 36, of the Battle Creek Post died in the crash of the single-engine plane near Austin Lake Airport.

Seriously injured was Andrew McLaughlin, 31, also of Battle Creek.

Witnesses said DeCoe and McLaughlin were thrown from the aircraft, which apparently was making a downwind landing, rather than a normal, upwind approach.

DeCoe has served at the Manistique Post for about two years before being transferred to lower Michigan about two years ago. His body was taken to the Henry Funeral Home in Battle Creek where arrangements are incomplete.

the Christmas holidays with our men in uniform in Asia."

"Domestic tranquility, true social justice and greater human progress are indispensable in fulfilling our world role," he concluded.

He hopes to visit Vietnam during the Christmas holidays.

Romney, a leading contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, was in Osage Beach, Mo., attending a Midwestern Governors Conference. His statement was released by his Lansing headquarters.

"Because I share with a growing number of Americans a deep concern for the unfinished search for social justice and human progress," his statement said, "I am delaying my intended September trip to Europe in order to look at the heart of this nation's crisis."

"Before I look at other parts of the world again, I want to take a fresh look across the nation at the domestic problems in housing, jobs, education, law enforcement, health and human relations."

Romney, who insists he is still pondering whether to seek the GOP nomination, said that his visit to other cities will be helpful in shaping programs for Michigan "and reappraising national, state and local priorities in the use of our resources."

The governor said he hoped to visit Europe in November after a special session of the Michigan legislature "and to spend

Northern's TV Education Hopes Ride On Channel 3

By Jean Worth
Northern Michigan University is asking the Escanaba Area to consider the opportunities of a new era of television broadcasting as it studies requests for use of TV Channel 3, which was allocated to Escanaba by the Federal Communications Commission 20 years ago.

Study

The Michigan State Educational Television Management and Use Study, started last November with a $50,000 grant from the Legislature, has just reported to the State Board of Education that "Michigan's existing educational broadcasting facilities, programs and services frequently rank individually with the finest in the nation."

"However, Michigan is lagging behind many sister states in pooling educational communications resources, developing additional stations... and planning toward interconnection."

The board will not act until its Sept. 13 meeting on study recommendations that it be the sole owner of all new educational television stations in the state, and responsible for statewide coordination of all educational communications in the state, including radio, television and computers. If approved by the Legislature the recommendations would give broad new powers to the board, which has been trying to define its function since it was restructured by the 1963 constitution.

Bay, operating on Channel 5, asked the FCC to give it Channel 3 to use a satellite channel to reach more TV audience in the mid-Upper Peninsula area. It says it's only reaching one-third of its potential in this area now via cable.

Northern Michigan University countered WFRV's request to the FCC for unused Channel 3 by asking that it be transferred from commercial television to educational television usage and allocated to Northern. The university says that it initiated a program even earlier than WFRV (although put on official record later) for the use of Channel 3 to reach most of the Upper Peninsula with a vast program of educational television.

National TV Program

The program is not just the one with which television audiences are now familiar (Channel 4 in Escanaba-Gladstone) but one into which the federal government is now moving to implement the recommendations of the presidentially appointed Carnegie Commission on a national educational television network.

A bill to create a Public Broadcasting Corporation Act has passed the Senate and passed a House committee and been referred to the floor of the House. (More than 60 witnesses were heard in House committee with none opposed.)

The Communications Act of 1934 sets up the basic rules for American television and this act would amend it. The Public Broadcast Corp. would be a governmental agency, but without ties and free to set up a public broadcasting system by whatever means it found suitable, with private broadcast-

Farm Credit Banks Grow

The three St. Paul farm credit banks reported substantial gains in loan volume to farmers and cooperatives during 1967.

Reports issued at their annual stockholder meetings being held last week in St. Paul showed each of the banks set new records in both number of members served, and in loan volume. The banks serve Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, and Michigan.

Largest gainer was the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, with a $90 million dollar increase in loans outstanding. The total of $429 million in loans outstanding is up 26 percent from last year. The bank supplies intermediate term credit to farmers through local farmer-owned Production Credit Associations.

The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul reported $642 million in mortgage loans outstanding, an increase of $54 million. The bank also reported an increase of $3 million in capital stock owned by the local Federal Land Bank Associations through which it makes real estate to farmers. Net worth of the Federal Land Bank was listed at $95 million, an increase of $5 million over last year.

The St. Paul Bank for Cooperatives reported loans to cooperatives totaling $173 million, an increase of $26 million for the year. It also reported record high assets of $136 million, an increase of $28 million. The Bank serves 653 farmer-owned cooperatives in the four state area.

Highlight of the meetings was dedication of the new $3.5 million Farm Credit Bank building in St. Paul. Three thousand farmers and ranchers, representing the farmer stockholders in the three banks, attended the meeting.

ing, etc. It would provide the means for interconnection between educational television units. Commercial television now has this by cable and microwave relay, while educational TV must rely on tapes.

Present Program

Northern's educational television station WNMR offers elementary and secondary instruction to Upper Peninsula schools but only 12 of them take it because the only present means is by TV cable. Northern having no television broadcasting station (Escanaba Area School District does not use TV instructional programs; its rural schools aren't on the cable.)

It is to create an educational television transmitter that Northern seeks Channel 3, now allocated to Escanaba and not used. Such a station would cost about $675,000 and Northern hopes for a grant from the Department of Health Education & Welfare to help finance it. Without the grant and without Channel 3 the project is of doubtful feasibility, William Mitchell, coordinator of instructional communications at Northern, told Escanaba officials.

Channel 13 Available

It would, he said, cost three times as much to build a station to reach the same Upper Peninsula audience as Channel 3, if Channel 13 were used. Channel 19 has been assigned to educational TV usage, but its range is so small that it would be a Marquette area coverage. Channel 13 is available for commercial usage.

On the television broadcast band channels 2 through 13 are very high frequency and channels 14 up are ultra high frequency and their broadcast coverage characters differ. Channel 3, for instance, will project a signal farther than Channel 13 on the same amount of power.

What Northern proposes is an exchange of Channel 13 for Channel 3 to enable the university to set up an educational broadcasting system that would reach all of the Upper Peninsula except the Ironwood and Sault Ste. Marie areas at its western and eastern tips. And even they could be reached with installation of local translators to boost the signal.

Northern would put its transmitter on the Green Hills in Tilden Township, Marquette County, south of Ishpeming. It would produce a Grade "A" TV signal in Escanaba-Gladstone, Iron Mountain-Kingford and Marquette - Ishpeming-Negaunee, and a Grade "B" signal in Manistique, Munising, Menominee, Baraga and most of the Copper Country. (WFRV proposes to give Escanaba a "B" signal from its satellite at Rumley.)

Northern proposes not only an instructional program for schools of the U.P. but a full program of educational and cultural broadcasts for the public. "The total knowledge of people in 1900 had doubled by World War II," said Mitchell "and although that's only 42 years ago it has doubled twice since then and it is expected to double twice in five more years." One of the proposals for keeping pace with this jet speed increase in knowledge is with educational television, he said.

Burn Ointment Sniffer Dies

MONROE (AP) — Arnold Johnson, 18, of rural Monroe died in a hospital Sunday night from what police said was the effects of sniffing an ointment for burns.

Johnson had been riding around in a car, squirting the ointment onto a rag and sniffing the fumes when he became ill, police reported. He died 90 minutes after being admitted to the hospital.

An 18-year-old companion riding with Johnson told police he pretended to be sniffing the ointment also, but did not inhale it.

THIS GROUP OF 4-H members will be a part of a Michigan group taking an educational tour to Chicago Aug. 29—Sept. 2. They were among finalists in the state 4-H achievement contest. From left: Linda Van Dyke, 17, Almont; Nancy Weldum, 17, Rock; and Dan Campbell, 17, of Romeo. State winners will leave East Lansing Aug. 29 by bus for Chicago.

Nancy Weldum Wins 4-H Trip

EAST LANSING — A 40-member delegation of Michigan 4-H members will leave Tuesday for a week-long educational trip in Chicago. All are winners of events at the State 4H Show held last week at Michigan State University.

Trip winners from this area include: Nancy Weldum of Rock, Delta County, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weldum.

The delegation will leave East Lansing and have headquarters at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel. During the week the group will visit the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, Marshall Field Department Store, The Merchandise Mart, Marina City, Adler Planetarium, Field Museum, Museum of Science and Industry and Roosevelt University.

On the lighter side, they will have a night tour of the Windy City, visit "Old Town" and see the play "Barefoot in the Park."

On the final day of the trip, the entire delegation will visit the Purdue University Urban Development Institute in Hammond, Ind., and get a first hand look at some of the problems of adjustment to the inter-city. Delegates will return Saturday, Sept. 2.

U.P. Forests Send Men To Fires In West

The Hiawatha National Forest of the Upper Peninsula is sending trained men to help in the Western States forest fire disaster, says Hiawatha Forest Supervisor Alfred Trout.

Ray Chase, district ranger at Rapid River, left Missoula, Mont., last week. Missoula is the Forest Service fire control center for the Western regions. From it fire crews and equipment are dispatched to fire suppression activities.

Chase has had considerable experience in fire control in this region and has also worked on fires in the West. He is a service chief and in that capacity will see that equipment, supplies, materials and manpower are available to the fire bosses in the field.

Several other Hiawatha Forest foresters have been alerted for duty in the West and are standing by for call. So far about 50 Forest Service members have been sent from the Eastern Region by the Milwaukee office.

The Ottawa Forest in the western U.P. sent Robert Lockart and James Hunter to Missoula last week and all regions in the nation are sending fire teams to help in the West.

More than 400 forest fires involving thousands more acres of timberland raged out of control Sunday over a vast area of the Pacific Northwest and British Columbia.

The U.S. Forest Service regional headquarters at Missoula on Sunday issued a "red alert", considered the most serious warning.

The situation was particularly critical in the Canadian province where at least 115 fires were reported in the Kamloops District alone, with another 230 fires burning out of control elsewhere in the province.

The situation was less critical south of the Canadian border, but the "red alert" showed extreme fire potential for northern Idaho and Western Montana. The fires have charred more than 185,000 acres of range timberland in British Columbia, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon in the last two weeks. About 13,000 men were on the fire lines Sunday.

Detroit Held In Tot Beating

DETROIT (AP) — Police were holding Kenneth Smith, 28, in connection with the severe beating of a 2-year-old girl Sunday. Lisa Leslie, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann Leslie, was in critical condition at a Detroit Hospital. Mrs. Leslie was quoted by police as saying she had left Lisa alone with Smith at her apartment after an argument.

Supervisors To Train In Course At Rapid River

MARQUETTE — Representatives of various Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique and Munising industries will meet with Northern Michigan University personnel Wednesday in Escanaba to plan for a series of supervisory training conferences scheduled to be held this fall in Rapid River.

Planning committee chairman Alcott Erickson, vice president of Early American Fence Co. Escanaba, said the meeting will begin at 12:15 p.m. in the Sherman Hotel.

Interested business and industrial managers are asked to contact Erickson for additional information about the courses or reservations for the luncheon meeting.

Rotary Leaders Meet Sept. 23 At Iron Mountain

Rotary District 622 Governor Edward E. Edick of Escanaba announces a leadership forum to be held at Iron Mountain with that city's Rotary Club as host on Saturday, Sept. 23.

The meeting will be one of the Rotary calendar's preludes to the highlight of the district's year, the annual conference to be held in Escanaba April 26-27, 1968.

Forum moderator for the leadership forum at Iron Mountain will be E. Milton Kvistad, past district governor of Fargo, N.D. Representing the Escanaba Rotary Club at the forum will be Richard Rinehart, program chairman; Robert Mosenfelder, international service chairman; Robert Haack, information chairman, and Walter Nelson, classification chairman.

School Millage Vote Wednesday

Passage Important Superintendent Says

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett today said passage of a request for five mills by the Escanaba Area Board of Education is "necessary if the schools are to stay in a solvent situation" in a statement on the election.

"Wednesday, Aug. 30, marks the date of another important school election. The voters of the school district are being asked to approve an additional five mills to meet school operational costs. Passage of this millage is most important to the economic well-being of the schools or it won't be requested. No one calls elections just for the fun of it. It is not the popular thing to do, particularly when the taxpayers are asked for more money. But it is necessary if the schools are to stay in a solvent situation."

Problem Is Common

"Economic problems for schools is not a matter of concern only in Escanaba, nor only in the Upper Peninsula, nor only in the State of Michigan. All over the nation, schools are asking for additional support from the electorate, or drastically cutting services, or both. Practically every day's news carries stories of special school elections in other communities. It is gratifying to note how many are passing. The people in those communities recognize the problem being faced by their schools and are helping to solve them. Many school districts have much higher school operation millage rates than Escanaba. A tax bill from another state observed the other day indicates 41 mills for school operation. (With the passage of this requested millage, Escanaba's school operational millage will be 19.7 mills.)

"What is the reason for the economic plight of education in the United States? Basically, it is because the costs of education have been increasing much more rapidly than the sources of school income. Much more is needed in the way of supplies and equipment than ever before in order to keep up with the new developments in teaching methods and programs. The costs of just the basic needs are increasing. Salaries are increasing, as they must, so that teachers are being paid more equitably with persons in other occupations requiring similar training and so that education can compete with business and industry for trained personnel. But there is still a shortage of teachers.

Cost Below Average

"Here in Escanaba, the per capita (student) cost of education in our public schools has increased from $333.44 during the 1964-65 school year to an estimated $467.22 for the coming year. This is still some $100 below the national average. The increase in teacher salaries is a major contributing factor to this increase, but not unreasonably so. Escanaba is a long way from setting the pace in teacher salaries. We are only keeping pace. Improvement in our program accounts for a large portion of the local increase in educational costs. For example, the opening of additional elementary classrooms this year and the resultant increase in staff increases the local budget. But the pupil-teacher ratio will be reduced and the program improved.

"Taxes increase on the state and national level, so why shouldn't they also increase on the local level? The big difference is that we have little, if anything, to say about tax increases at the state and national levels but everything to say at the local level. The result is that we too often take out our spite against local issues at the polls and thereby prevent local agencies from serving us in the way we wish to be served.

"State and local taxes go out of the community. Local taxes stay within our community. By far the greatest proportion of any increase in school taxes is spent within our community to the benefit of our businessmen, our retailers, tradesmen, etc."

Rapid's Cheese Wins In Detroit

Rapid River Cheese Co. of Rapid River won two second prizes and a third in the Michigan State Fair underway in Detroit.

The cheese plant, a consistent awardist at the State Fair, was awarded second prize for its aged cheddar, second prize for its Colby cheese and third for fresh cheese.

The plant, owned by partners Harry Buchman and George Anderson, will produce between three-quarters and a million pounds of cheese this year. Its production is higher than last year, despite a general shortening up of dairy manufacture in Michigan because it took over the milk collection routes formerly operated by Pauly & Pauly in the Manistiquette and Engadine areas last fall.

Rash Of B&Es Reported Here

State Police and Delta County Sheriff's officers are investigating a rash of breaking and enterings reported over the weekend.

Latest of the breakins occurred at Bark River sometime last night at the Bark River Co-Op store and Adams grocery. State Police reported.

Officers said general merchandise, including 20 cartons of cigarettes, was stolen from the Co-Op store.

State Police said Lloyd Soergren's store on County Rd. 414 in Wells Township was entered and food, beer, cigarettes and shotgun shells were stolen sometime early Sunday morning.

Still under investigation are breaking and enterings at Arne's Maratnon Station owned by Arnold Carlson and Forest Pike's Grocery at Rapid River and the Breezy Point Tavern which were reported Saturday.

Breakins also were reported at cottages in Cornell Township owned by Lyle Singles, Lake Orion, Mich., Kenneth Bohs, Neilsville, Wis., and Arne Johnson, 607 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone. A flashlight, transistor radio, some small change and a quantity of whiskey was taken from the Johnson camp, troopers said.

Area District Asks Additional Five Mills

Wednesday is "Decision Day" in the Escanaba Area School district.

Beginning at 7 a.m., residents of the district will vote on a request by the Board of Education for five mills for a five-year period to meet increased operating expenses of the school district.

Any registered voter of the district is eligible to vote. Polling places are the seven regular precincts in Escanaba, plus the Ford River, Wells and Cornell schools. Polls close at 8 p.m. If approved, the millage will provide the school district with an estimated $250,000 to $260,000 on its tax base of about $52 million in time to balance the books on the 1967-68 budget.

A "No" vote would force the district to operate at a deficit because millage rates for 1967 tax bills must be certified by Sept. 1. Even a favorable vote on the same question if resubmitted by the board latter this year would not help the current budget because the levy could not be charged on tax bills until 1968.

Board Explains

According to figures prepared by Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett, the estimated deficit if the millage is not passed would be about $217,000.

The 1967-68 budget approved by the Board of Education is about $2,436,000 with revenues from local millage and state aid expected to hit about $2,219,000.

The Board of Education, in a letter mailed to parents of Escanaba area school district last week, said "the decision to request this additional tax money was made with great reluctance by the members of your Board of Education, but after all of the facts and figures were available to us, we were left with no other choice.

"The cost of public education, like everything else we must pay for these days, is increasing due to inflation. Salary increase for all personnel necessary to staff our schools accounts for 62 per cent of the increased cost. Salaries for additional teachers needed for an increased enrollment at the high school of 87 students plus salaries and operating expenses of our new elementary schools account for 21 per cent of the increased cost. The remainder of the increase is due again to paying more dollars for the same quantity of goods and services."

Now Levies 14.7

To the property owner, five mills would mean $5 additional tax on each $1,000 of state equalized valuation. For a home with an equalized valuation of $5,000, for example, the additional tax if the millage is approved would be $25.

Currently, the Escanaba area school district levies 14.7 mills for operating expenses. Of this, 7.2 mills was allocated from Delta County. Two other extra levies are also in force, one for 4.5 mills and a second for 3 mills.

The Gulf Stream, part of a network of interconnecting currents in the Atlantic, has moved some distance to the east this year.

Voting For Millage

Manistique School District, which includes all of Schoolcraft County except the townships of Inwood and Seney, votes today on 5 mills for 2 years for school operation.

On Wednesday it is the turn of the Escanaba Area School District. It will vote on 5 mills for 5 years for school operation.

Elsewhere around the Upper Peninsula other districts are voting to beat the deadline on levies for this tax year.

The issue for the voter is a milestone sort of thing, a major change of direction in public schooling. In the Escanaba Area District the tax would come on the top of 7.2 mills allocated as the schools' share of the 15 mill general property tax, plus two specially voted taxes of 4.5 mills and 3 mills for a present total of 14.7 mills for operation. In addition there is a levy to pay off the bonded debt on the district's school buildings.

The addition to taxes for school operation is a major one. The deficit in the district's budget if the millage should fail would be $217,000. Defeat of the millage would not shorten up schooling in the first year as much as it would create a debt to be paid later.

In Manistique it has been announced that football and other extracurricular activities of the school system are riding on passage of the millage. The issue is basically the same in both cities and in all other Michigan cities where voters are going to the polls to vote Yes or No against an increase in property taxes for school operation.

The voter faces two dilemmas. He cannot, except by voting "No" register a protest against further increase in the taxes on property, which is already heavily burdened with taxes. And he cannot make a personal determination of school needs and vote his conviction on that basis. He must take the counsel of the board of education which he has helped elect to office to make a judgment on the issue for him, or he must reject that counsel and substitute his own conviction.

There may be some feeling that in voting "No" the elector is helping the school board to plead the need for economy to its employees, but this is unrealistic.

The Michigan Legislature has given public employees the right to bargain on wages and teachers and other school employees have used this right to jack up their pay substantially. The board of education has had little area for maneuver in this matter. There's a going rate of pay for teachers like there is for bricklayers — although it's lower — and a school district must pay it or eventually face a deterioration of faculty quality or of actual shortage of teachers in a situation where they are in general short supply.

A board of education member said it is difficult for teachers to attain pay on a level with industrial workers because "it can't be passed on." Industry adds wage increases into the cost of its product and thus "passes them on."

It was to free teachers and other government workers from this stymie that the Legislature gave them bargaining privileges, apparently. Along with it the Legislature ordained that public employees may not strike, but the prohibition, like Shakespeare's custom, seems more honored in the breach than the observance. Simply, public employees should be as well paid as those in other employment for equal skills and hazards, but our national system of rewards for labor has been badly bent out of shape by strongarm unionism. Governor Romney mentioned it in his Governor's Day address during the U. P. State Fair.

The public has no control over the labor cost, in say, a Cadillac. It has only the option to buy the car or not to buy it. But it can vote in this instance on school employees' pay because the school boards can't meet their demands without going to the public for more taxes. This is a veto power which should be used with restraint, but it is so seldom that the public gets to say "No" that it will be passing strange if the millage wins.

If a defeat were used to force a greater equity in school taxation or school cost reform it might be justified. But our fear is that it will just be negative and will accomplish nothing because schooling must be provided, it is increasingly expensive and its bills must be paid. A "No" vote on payment only extends the public's note at the bank. The realists will vote "Yes".

Aiding The Elderly

The Delta County Board of Supervisors has ordered minor repairs on the Delta Nursing Home, which it owns and leases, to qualify it for an extension of use which the State Fire Appeals Board has indicated it would grant if the repairs were made.

Earlier the state granted an extension from July 1 to Oct. 1, State Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) asked for the meeting of the State Appeal Board which heard testimony of Varnum, Walter Lewke of the Escanaba Industrial Foundation and Mrs. Delia Peterson, who operates the Nursing Home. The board indicated it would grant a year's extension if the county reported every three months on progress toward provision of a nursing home that meets state standards, and if the minor repairs were made.

Why didn't the county board of supervisors do this? It caused what appear to be needless deep fears in a group of aged people when it could, by closer cooperation with the state, have arranged for the extension so that there would be a grace period in which to encourage private enterprisers to establish a medicenter which will care for at least a part of the persons in the Delta Nursing Home.

'But, Fidel, That's My Girl'

ROSS LEWIS, MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

Major Red Threat In South Thailand

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—My Thai friend said: "Why are all you Americans writing about northeast Thailand? Go down to the southern peninsula just north of the Malaysia border. That's where the major Communist threat is. Thai troops can't get at them. They run across the border. Malaysian troops meet the same problem."

The area is ripe for trouble. The economic situation is bad. It is getting worse. In the past several years the fishing catch has been cut in half and the bottom has dropped out of the market. Two years of heavy floods have badly hurt the rice crop. The rubber plots are poorly managed and deteriorating.

The 800,000 people who live in the area are three-fourths Malayans. There are serious religious and racial antagonisms between these people and the ruling Thai.

The Malayans speak a different language. Their children have a few educational opportunities. They often go to local Moslem religious schools, but poverty prevents them from going to the towns to study academic subjects in government schools. Even if the youth can make their way to the towns, they're handicapped by a different language.

Government officials, army men and the police are Thai. Because they lack education the Malayans find it difficult to get into government, the army or the police and even more difficult to advance in these groups. The Malayans thus feel ruled by outsiders.

A Chinese named Chang Peng leads 600 to 1,200 Communist subversives. There are other Chinese, Thai and Malay Communist terrorist groups in operation; no one knows how many. Some areas are already under effective Red control, though they could not stand off the Thai army in a pitched battle. The Communist terrorists vie for power with groups of bandits (Moslem Young Lions of the Golden Peninsula), smugglers, Malay nationalist groups and racketeers.

Terrorism is on the increase. Indications are that Chinese Communist agents are attempting to bring these various dissatisfied groups together in a loose co-operative organization. Arms are being brought into the area from Red China. The exact route isn't known. Though reports say the arms come through North Vietnam, Laos and Thailand, it's more probable that shipments come in by sea.

Historically, the area has been neglected by the Thai government. Of late, programs have been started, but their effectiveness has been dampened by red tape and lack of co-ordination. They move by fits and starts.

The U. S. Information Agency has stations in the area to fight Communist propaganda. The Thai army has begun some effective civic action in limited areas. Thai special forces units have U. S. advisers. Government agencies are working on a county agent program to better the rubber, rice and other agricultural output by small farmers. There are programs for better schools and roads. These efforts haven't met the problem. Things are getting worse faster than they're getting better.

In guerrilla wars, prevention is less costly than fighting. More U. S.-Thai co-operation in clearing up the political-economic-education and racial-religious problems of the area might prevent armed conflict years from now.

Contributions are welcome. They cannot be over 300 words and must be signed with name, address and phone number of writer and names will be used. The right to condense letters is reserved.

TO THE SOLDIERS

The death we face, we knew we'd meet, the cannons' roar our ears did greet, we fight, we die, as soldiers must, yet still in you we place our trust. You will not fail us while we're here, away from home and loved ones dear. The days are long, the nights are dark, we hear naught else but rifles bark.

We ask how long we must be here, with hearts depressed, eyes filled with fear, how many tears will fall tonight for those who fought and died for right.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstedt

Love, Patience Help

A mother writes that her six-year-old son is a poor eater and is underweight. His pediatrician says he is healthy and advises the mother not to worry but her husband is not satisfied with this and would like to insist that the child eat more. The boy refuses to try new dishes of any kind.

It is essential in such cases to make the mealtime pleasant and not a recurring struggle. Neither force nor vitamin supplements will induce a child to eat but a happy, well-adjusted child will eat ravenously when he is hungry. He must, however, learn to eat to nourish his body and not as a means of pleasing his parents or obtaining their love. Show him that you love him always but don't let your love be connected in any way with his eating habits.

A small portion of a new food should be offered without any persuasion other than to show by your example that you enjoy eating it. Avoid introducing two or more new dishes at any one meal.

Until he has developed sound habits of eating essential foods, don't make candy, cake, jellies or soft drinks available to him. If he gets hungry between meals there is no harm letting him eat one piece of fruit or drink one glass of milk. When the change in your attitude about his eating finally sinks into his consciousness he will suddenly surprise you some day and begin to eat like a growing boy.

LANSING (AP) — Strong organized opposition, particularly spokesmen from religious groups, were set to testify today against a bill proposing liberalization of Michigan's abortion laws.

The hearing will open at 9:30 a.m. in the Lansing State Court of Appeals chamber. The Senate Judiciary Committee is holding the public hearing on the measure sponsored by Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte.

The bill provides that a licensed physician, after consultation and agreement with at least two other licensed physicians, may terminate the pregnancy of a woman in a licensed hospital upon certification that it is necessary "for the preservation of the physical or mental health of the mother or that there is a substantial risk that the child would be born with a grave physical or mental defect."

In the case of rape or incest, the certification of the need for the termination of pregnancy would be waived.

The measure further permits sterilization of a man or woman "for physical, mental or economic reasons."

Opening lead—See article.

Oswald: "When I was learning bridge there were definite rules for the opening lead. You were given wide latitude in choice of the suit but every one agreed on the right card to lead, once you picked the suit."

Jim: "The rules had changed very little when I was learning the game. Today every expert has his own theory of which card to choose. They tend to lead top of two: with three to the king, queen or jack they lead third best just as they did in the good old days. They also lead low from three to the ace against no-trump, but no one is likely to lead from an ace against a suit bid."

Oswald: "Three small is the great problem. Most lead third best, a few still lead the top as they did 30 years ago and some play a convention called MUD — middle, up and down. In other words, lead the middle one and the spurt up or down later as the play moves you."

Jim: "You aren't any sort of standpat. We both lead low from three small except when we have raised our partner's suit and he can figure out that our seven or eight isn't the top of a doubleton."

Oswald: "All this brings us around to today's hand and something ultramodern. Fifteen years ago we always lead fourth best from four or more small cards. Today, we frequently lead the top so that partner won't play us for an honor."

Jim: "When today's hand was played in the Mid-South Regional in Edgewater Park, Miss., every South player reached four hearts. Where East did not overall, a diamond was usually opened and South would make 12 tricks. With a spade overall and spade raise the old-fashioned three of spades lead spelt trouble for the defense. East would finesse the ten and South would take all the tricks. When the seven of spades was opened, East would go right up with the ace and return a club to hold South to his contract."

Wilderness Outlook For America Not Encouraging

By LEE SMITS
A hearing before the Harrison Township Zoning Commission in Macomb County was a grim omen of what kind of an America the kids of 1967 USA — and the their kids can look forward to.

A marina is planned for Belvidere Bay, just north of the mouth of the Clinton River on Lake St. Clair. A petition was presented, signed by hundreds of citizens who protested that a breeding ground for fish and wildlife would be destroyed and that the diminished marsh borders of Lake St. Clair would be further reduced. There were objections, but the chief complaint was familiar — more erosion of what is left of the unspoiled outdoors.

The marina project was sidetracked, temporarily. The township planning commission will pass the problem on to the county planning commission and there will be further consultations to determine what will be of most benefit to the public.

No matter what the final decision, the general outlook for land and water wilderness, within quick travel distance in Michigan — and everywhere else in America — is not very bright.

All because of people. More and more people. More freeways, more subdivisions, more homes, more factories, more summer cottages. Erasing woodlots, marshes, pond holes, brushy fields, hedgerows. Destruction of outdoor resources affects not only those who actively enjoy our Water Wonderland — fishermen, hunters, hikers, boaters, bathers. It also greatly distresses a more passive section of the public classified as nature lovers.

There is vigorous rear-guard action to halt the depletion. State and National agencies are doing their utmost. Such organizations as Natural Science for Youth Foundation, the Audubon Society, and here in Michigan, Nature Center projects are active. Meanwhile the demand for state and national parks, for access to fishing waters, keeps increasing and available areas keep shrinking.

The overall conservation campaign is for the benefit of the majority of Americans, the general public. The extra affluent minority can always find the leisure and the cash to enjoy the best of outdoor recreation. In the Canadian northwest, Alaska, Africa, Latin America there remains unspoiled wilderness, an abundance of fish and game.

In Michigan there are sixty-odd shooting preserves, where a long shooting season is permitted and where members — or daily customers — are offered deluxe sport, at about $5 a bird. Most preserves have capable gun dogs. Many have trout ponds.

There is something puzzling about the reluctance of the American farmer to cash in on his wildlife resources. With basic management, a typical Michigan farm will produce bumper crops of quail, pheasant, cottontail. Neighboring farmers could form partnerships to expand their sporting facilities.

Bass and panfish can be readily reared in farm ponds. There is federal assistance for those who are interested in creating ponds for fish and waterfowl. Certainly sportsmen would be eager to pay for the privilege of utilizing farmland preserves. In Britain and Europe landowners have been collecting dividends from their fields and streams for many generations.

Traffic Deaths Drop In State

DETROIT (AP) — Traffic deaths in Michigan have dropped sharply from last year's levels, while they remain unchanged nationwide, the Automobile Club of Michigan reports.

For the first six months of this year, traffic deaths in Michigan were down more than 17 per cent, although traffic volume remained at 1966 levels, the Auto Club said.

Injuries dropped an estimated 10 per cent in Michigan, but were unchanged nationwide, the Auto Club reported.

Soo Marine Dies When Car Skids

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn. (AP) — Robert Jack Strobbridge, 23, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was killed Sunday when his car skidded on a wet highway in Old Saybrook and hit an aluminum light pole. State Police said he was stationed at the U.S. submarine base at Groton.

There are more than 2,500 species of lizard. The only two known to be poisonous are the Gila monster of the United States and the crotalid of Mexico.

Expand Hospital

GREENVILLE (AP) — Tentative plans to decide a $620,000 wing at the United Memorial Hospital Sept. 24 have been announced by Joseph Dascola, hospital administrator. First patients to the 38-bed facility are to be admitted in November. The addition was built without help from federal or state funds.

Boys Town Now Is 50 Years Old

BOYS TOWN, Neb. (AP) — Fifty years ago, the Rev. Edward Flanagan, an Irish immigrant, decided to devote his life to helping homeless and wayward boys. He borrowed $90,000, started a house in Omaha and started guiding his first "family"—two homeless newsboys and three lads turned over to him by a juvenile court.

Today there are 900 at Boys Town, orphans or boys from broken homes. The $90-a-month house in Omaha has grown into a $15-million dollar establishment about 10 miles west of Omaha.

Over the half century about 15,000 youngsters have passed through Boys Town. Since 1937 when it graduated its first high school class, most have gone out into the world with a high school diploma.

Father Flanagan lived to see his dream on its way to solid success. In 1946 he had launched a $5-million building program. It was well on its way when he succumbed to a heart attack en route home from Austria

Big Cedar River Project Points To Fishing Gains

By EUGENE PETERSON

Frank Rodman of Hermansville and I were the only amateur observers on Aug. 25 when Michigan Conservation Department biologists conducted a fish census and evaluation of the stream improvement dams constructed on the Big Cedar River last year.

These dams were built in Section 12, Township 38 North, Range 26 West, in Spalding Township, Menominee County. The biologists were Ludwig Frankenberg, Crystal Falls District of the Conservation Department; David Johnson, Escanaba District, and their aides, Howard Wandel and Ron Helgren.

The dams had survived the ravages of the extremely high spring run-off and the icefloods fairly well, although it was apparent that some repairs were needed. Johnson said that larger timbers would do better in such construction, as well as larger stones.

Channels Bulldozed

The channels that were bulldozed in the stream bed have been a decided improvement of the stream. The water low is considerably reduced at this time of year and the small flow had normally trickled through the warm rocks over the entire width of the river. Now the flow is concentrated in a stream about 10 feet wide.

Johnson and Frankenberg agreed that these channels could be further improved by strategically placing large rocks to provide hiding places for trout. These large boulders would also tend to increase the velocity of the water, thus keeping the channels cleaner and aerated, and would also provide breeding places for trout foods such as caddis fly, stone fly nymphs, etc. The biologists agreed that the Cedar River has a more than ample supply of the most desirable trout foods.

Surprised By Fish

Rodman and I were both surprised at the number and varieties of fish found in what appeared to my untrained eye as empty pools. I couldn't stay long enough to learn what the final count was on the fish they recovered, from that half a mile or so of stream, but I was amazed to see what they took out of the first small pool.

There were 11 trout ranging from 5 inches up to 10 inches. The listing of all the other species sounds like the auto industry's roll call of sports car offerings: Black Sided Darter, Horny Headed Chub, Red Tailed Chub, Long Nosed Dace, White Sucker, Hog Sucker, Common Shiner, Lawyer, Mud Minnow, Black Nosed Shiner, and I don't know how many more. The scientists said that they believed that they had a tally of about 99 per cent of all the trout in the pool or in a given stretch of stream.

Shocking Gear

The fish shocking equipment consists of a gas engine driving a generator which puts out up to 280 volts DC. Long electrodes are used on fiberglass shafts to protect the operators. It looked to me like a job for experts. If a fellow got a bare arm or leg in the wrong place he could get a pretty stiff jolt of electricity.

There is a lot of hard work in this job. Wandel and Helgren had to pull the little boat with the generator up and down the stream, which sometimes would have been a better job for a team of horses.

Since the Legislature has shortened up the money available to the Conservation Department for this important stream improvement work to make better fishing the thought occurred to me that maybe volunteer sportsmen (except city Conservation Department rangers) could do some of this work. It's just an idea, but it seems a shame to wait until more money is available to improve fishing because that might be a long, long time.

Forecast Is For Cooler Weather

Temperatures Tuesday through Saturday are expected to average three to five degrees below normal highs of 68 to 72 and normal lows of 49 to 54. Turning cooler Tuesday and remaining cool through the rest of week. Rainfall is expected total only one or two tenths of an inch with a chance of showers about Tuesday and again late in the week.

"JALOPY"

In the 1900s, because of a shortage of automobiles in Mexico, many were shipped to Jalapa for resale. Thus arose the term "jalopy" for an old automobile.

The earth's deepest canyon, the Mariana Trench, drops 36,198 feet below the Pacific Ocean floor. This vast chasm is 20 times bigger than the Grand Canyon.

BIOLOGISTS OF THE Michigan Conservation Department pull a fish shocker in a little boat on the Big Cedar River to check on the fish to be found in pools in the stream. The narrow channel of the stream was bulldozed in the bottom gravel in the improvement work last year.

Kill 10 Yanks Wound 106 And KO 12 Choppers

Four Marines were killed, 80 were wounded, three helicopters were destroyed and nine were damaged at the airstrip, military spokesmen said. The attack at Dong Ha killed six Marines and wounded 26, AP Correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Da Nang. He said 110,000 gallons of fuel were destroyed.

Shell Hospital

Two Marine jet pilots later reported they destroyed seven of the 12 Communist firing positions around Dong Ha.

The most severe of Sunday's bombardments was at Can Tho, the biggest city south of Saigon. Officials said mortar shells killed 57 Vietnamese and wounded 203, and 51 of the casualties resulted from shells hitting a big hospital close to the U.S. military advisory compound. Four Americans were wounded.

Attacks on seven Vietnamese and American positions near Ho An, 15 miles south of Da Nang, killed 15 civilians and wounded 34, a government spokesman said. He said 39 civilians were kidnapped.

The spokesman said 21 guerrillas were killed and five suspects detained.

One American in the medical advisory team at Ho An was killed and four wounded. Seven American military advisors were wounded and Vietnamese troops suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

Other shelling in the central highland killed 14 civilians and damaged a number of helicopters on an airfield at Ban Me Thuot and caused "moderate casualties" at a South Vietnamese militia post near Pleiku.

Militia Overrun

Viet Cong terrorists overrun three militia outposts and an infantry position on the main roads connecting Saigon and the delta city of My Tho, which produces large amounts of food. South Vietnamese losses were reported as 11 dead, 30 wounded and 30 weapons lost.

American air raiders stayed south of Hanoi Sunday because of poor weather further north. Navy fliers attacked the Chau Cau army barracks 34 miles south of the Red capital and the Nam Dinh railroad yard 45 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Mrs. E. Murphy Dies On Sunday

Mrs. Ethel Murphy, 83, of 416 S. 6th St. died at 4:10 a.m. Sunday at St. Francis Hospital. She had been in failing health for several years and seriously ill for the past month.

Mrs. Murphy was born Dec. 28, 1883 in Escanaba and had resided here all of her life. Her husband, Edward L. an engineer for the C. & N. W. Railroad, died in 1946.

She was a member of St. Patrick's Church and the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

She is survived by one son, Edward of Green Bay; three daughters, Mrs. Ethel (Helen) Eberbaugh of Charleston, S. C., Mrs. Merrill (Janet) Desmond of Crystal Lake, Ill. and Dorothy of Escanaba; one brother, Claude Fisher of Escanaba and one sister, Mrs. George (Hazel) Wilderspin of Munising.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Monday and funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Patrick's Church. Parish prayers will be recited at the funeral home at 8 p.m. Monday. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Steven Cretens Funeral Services Set Tuesday

GLADSTONE — Funeral services for Steven Michael Cretens, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Cretens of Kipling who was killed Saturday morning when struck by a car, will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at All Saints Church with Msgr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home after 4 p.m. today. Parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m.

Steven Michael Cretens was born March 30, 1958, in Escanaba. He was a student at All Saints school and would have started the fourth grade this fall. Survivors include his parents, one brother, Charles Daniel, two sisters, Susan Elizabeth and Carolyn Mary, all at home, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Rivers of Gladstone.

Poor Pay More Is Highlight Of ETV Tonight

Bay College Admits 610

Registration for the fall semester at Bay de Noc Community College was completed Saturday afternoon at the enrollment levels determined by budget and space limitations. With provision allowed for three community service courses which will begin next week, the totals are 610 persons, of whom 400 are full-time students.

Thirty-five per cent of the students are enrolled in courses leading directly to employment and 65 per cent are in courses leading to bachelor's degrees. Ninety per cent of the students indicated that they planned to complete an associate degree at the college, while 10 per cent are not working for college credit. Fifty-five per cent of the students are male and 45 per cent female.

The name Judas tree has been given to a species of red-bud because it is believed Judas hanged himself on such a tree.

Four Injured In City Crash

Four people were injured when a pickup truck spun out of control at a high rate of speed and crashed into the Mosier vehicle, which had come to a complete stop after Mosier had seen the truck sliding toward him.

Officers said the truck left 70 feet of skidmarks on the road before hitting Mosier's car, then spun around, jumped the curb, hit a tree and skidded 72 feet further across the lawn.

Steede was thrown from the truck in the crash and when officers arrived he was lying in the road.

Police are continuing their investigation and no violations have been issued as yet.

The Queen of Sheba ruled Yemen when the present-day small republic was one of the fairest lands on the Arabian Peninsula, the National Geographic says. Travelers were marveling at Yemen's skyscrapers and walled cities at a time when wigwags still dotted Manhattan.

J. VanEnkevort Taken By Death

Jacob VanEnkevort, 78, of Bark River died at 9:45 a.m. today at the Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in Powers.

He was born Jan. 29, 1889 in Michigan and had been a resident of the Bark River area for the past 50 years. Mr. VanEnkevort was a member of St. George's Church.

He is survived by two brothers, Louis and Henry of Bark River; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Dehlin of Bark River and Mrs. Mary Garity of Green Bay and several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home Chapel in Bark River from 3 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. George's Church with Rev. Thomas Dunleavy officiating. Burial will be in the Bark River Cemetery.

Pilots Point To Television Uncertainty

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK (NEA) — If you could honestly judge a television series from its best-foot-forward pilot, then you could flatly state that the 1967-68 season will be good news.

But it must be remembered that, judging from pilots, last season's picks for viewing highlights were The Man Who Never Was and The Hero, both of which died in mid-season.

When a producer makes a pilot, he is out to sell it. So time and care are taken, money is spent and the script, while somewhat confined by the necessity of introducing regular characters, is as good as it can be.

When it is sold, time and money are budgeted and what follows is often below the pilot's standard.

Twenty-six new shows will preview beginning Sept. 3, the week when ABC and CBS launch their new season. NBC's fall schedule begins Sept. 10. ABC has 11 new shows, NBC eight and CBS seven. Of these six are westerns, six are situation comedies, four are family adventure series, three are detective, three are comedy-variety, two are drama, one is a war series and one is an interview show.

The best news is that of the 26 shows, only two fit into the "gimmick" category. One is The Flying Nun — she really flies, you see. It's something to do with the fact that she weighs only 90 pounds and the wind, plus lift, plus thrust, plus her wing-shaped coronet, carry her into the wild blue yonder a lot. But the ABC-TV series benefits greatly from a delightful performance from cute-but-not-sticky Sally Field and hard-to-criticize humor from Peter Pan and The Sound of Music.

The other gimmick show is ABC-TV's The Second Hundred Years like The Flying Nun, from Screen Gems where gimmickery is a way of life.

In this Arthur O'Connell is a 67-year-old who learns his father, frozen in a glacier 67 years earlier at the age of 33, has been found and defrosted, just like a TV dinner. Physically and mentally dad is 33, the exact age of his grandson.

One of the most promising series is Cimarron Strip, starring Stuart Whitman, an Academy Award nominee. It sports the biggest budget in television.

between $350,000 and $400,000 per week. A lot of the budget is going for scripts, the best news of all. The story is where it all begins.

The CBS-TV series will be 90 minutes long and it and a first-run movie comprise the network's entire Thursday schedule. The setting of Cimarron Strip is a period of western history that hasn't been overly used, and it lends itself to a variety of stories. Whitman is a marshal in the lawless, rowdy territory called the Cherokee Outlet during the period before the government opened it to settlers.

Another good pilot is High Chaparral, which will kick off on NBC-TV with a two-hour episode, preempting Bonanza for the night (both shows are produced by David Dortort), and thereafter follow it on Sunday nights. Bonanza elements are there, but the setting is Arizona near the Mexican border. Acting from Leif Erickson, Cameron Mitchell, Mark Slade and an exciting newcomer named Henry Darrow, is all competent.

Judd, for the Defense, on ABC-TV could be a powerful drama in the mold of The Defenders. Carl Betz, far from the wishy-washy husband he was on The Donna Reed Show, is excellent as the country's highest-paid defense attorney.

ABC-TV's Hondo, starring Ralph Tenger in the role John Wayne played in the movie, is a realistic look at life in the West, spiced with fights and action.

The Danny Thomas Hour on NBC-TV is an anthology which will include several musical-comedy variety shows. But the bulk of it will be dramas with big-name guest stars (Olivia de Havilland, Richard Todd, Sid Caesar, Geraldine Chaplin in her television debut and good scripts).

He and She on CBS-TV could be the successor to The Dick Van Dyke Show. Richard Benjamin and Paula Prentiss are a pair of attractive, deft comics. But the show is very nearly stolen by Jack Cassidy as an egocentric, handsome actor who plays Jeanman in a television series based on the comic strip Benjamin draws.

ABC-TV's Garrison's Gorillas could be subtitled The Dirty One-Third Dozen. Ron Harper is the leader of a gang of four cops, recruited from prison for special undercover missions.

Inside on NBC-TV has the benefit of Raymond Burr and is almost presold due to a pilot that was popular when it ran as a feature film on World Premiere. Dundee and the Cul-starring him with Joe Campanella in a detective series about a man trying to fight the computerized organization for which he works, while also solving cases.

Good Morning, World on CBS-TV is another maybe-Dick Van Dyke Show. Sheldon Leonard and Carl Reiner are the executive producers. Reiner directed the first six episodes, and Bill Persky and Sam Denoff (who wrote many of the Van Dyke shows) are the creators. Once you get over missing Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore, you can learn to like and laugh with stars Joby Baker and Ronnie Schell as disc jockeys and Billy De Wolfe and Julie Parrish.

Sheldon Leonard is also the producer of Accidental Family on NBC-TV, which stars Jerry Van Dyke as a night club comic who must win over his motherless son, played by darling little Teddy Quinn, who has been brainwashed, by the relative with whom he has been living, not to like his father.

The Mothers-in-Law on NBC-TV, is produced and directed by Dezi Arnaz. It's filmed before a live audience (as is Good Morning, World) and is lucky to have two of the world's best comedienne, Eve Arden and Kaye Ballard.

Animals are prevalent. Maya on NBC-TV has some of the most spectacular photography ever seen on television. It's filmed entirely in India. An American (Jay North) and Indian boy (Sajid Khan) and their elephant travel the country searching for the father of the American.

Gentle Ben also stars an animal, a bear. The CBS-TV series, with Dennis Weaver and appealing young Clint Howard, is produced by Ivan Flipper. Dakari, Tors, Cowboy in Africa on ABC-TV, returns Chuck Connors as a man trying to teach Africans to conserve their game. It's also a Tors production.

Now we come to The Guns of Will Sonnett, an ABC-TV western with Walter Brennan and Dick Rambo as grandfather and grandson searching, searching, searching for son-father, who may or may not be a bad guy.

Some shows, like the Kraft Music Hall, The Jerry Lewis Show, The Carol Burnett Show and Good Company (with lawyer F. Lee Bailey in a Person to Person kind of interview program) are taping close to air date, so they remain unknown factors. N. Y. P. D. was sold without a pilot. But it has the benefit of a talented cast (Jack Warden, Frank Converse and Robert Hooks), New York locations and access to the files of the New York Police Department.

Finally, Off to See the Wizard on ABC-TV is a Walt Disney-like show. Produced at MGM, it uses as "hosts" some of the characters from the Wizard of Oz in cartoon form to introduce some old movies and some new ones made for the series.

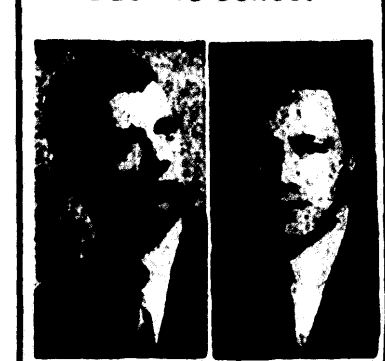

None of this takes into account the specials, which will be all over the dials this season. CBS and ABC have heavy schedules of drama, some original, some adaptations of famous works; documentaries; sports events; music events; you name it. NBC will also have some, but president Julian Goodman has coined a new phrase to describe the season in Peacock land: Event Television.

The theory is that a series like I Spy, for instance, might suddenly do a drama about race riots, making this a special within the series.

Tony Romani

Tony Romani Now Performing In Florida

Tony Romani, a Cuban refugee, who resided in Escanaba for several years, is now a featured performer at the "Les Violins" night club in Miami, Fla. He has a featured spot during the show at which time he plays the guitar and sings. Tony is also a member of the chorus there.

Attorney and Mrs. Robert LeMire and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snyder of Escanaba are among those who have seen Tony while performing at the "Les Violins," and they have directed many other area people there.

Tony, now 21 and his brother, George, now 20, were expelled from Cuba when Tony was 14 for participating in Catholic activities. They went first to Jamaica and then came to Escanaba under the efforts of the Marquette Diocese and under the sponsorship of Attorney and Mrs. Robert LeMire.

Tony resided with the LeMires for about one and a half years during which time he attended Holy Name High School and Bay de Noe Community College. While at Holy Name he played guitar with the band, "The Nomads," and later with "The Renegades."

Tony's family came to Escanaba from Cuba in 1965 and also remained here for some time. At the present time, the entire family is residing in Florida.

PROVO — Mr. and Mrs. James K. Provo of 318 S. 8th St., Escanaba welcomed their first child, a son, Charles James, born at 3:34 a.m. on Aug. 26. The infant weighed 7 pounds and 12 ounces at birth. The mother is the former Linda Bydalek.

BAKER — A son, Jeffery John, weighing 6 pounds and 4 ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Baker of 306 S. 10th St. at 8:33 a.m. on Aug. 26. Mrs. Baker was Violet Boudreau.

THURBER — Mr. and Mrs. Winton E. Thurber of Kenosha, Wis., welcomed their first child, a son, born this morning, Monday, Aug. 28. The infant has been named Timothy Neil. Mrs. Thurber is the former Mary E. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Nelson, 1412 7th Ave. S., Escanaba.

Dear Friends:
I have been experimenting lately with chocolate fudge recipes — especially ones that call for marshmallows — and have found a fantastic way to make one batch of it into three different flavors with no extra pots, pans or effort.

Now listen to this:
Set aside three little cake pans to pour your batter in before you even start cooking your fudge. Line each pan with plastic wrap. (It will not stick to teflon.)

As soon as your fudge is ready to pour, put only one-third of it in the first pan.

Add three heaping tablespoons of dry powdered cocoa and one tablespoon of imitation brandy extract (cherry or orange flavors are also excellent to the rest of the mixture. Stir it quickly until it completely dissolves and pour some more in the second pan. This will give you a DARK bittersweet fudge with a taste all its very own.

Now, you're left with one-third of your goodie. The last is the very best of all and will make such a great concoction that you'll wonder where your original recipe went!

Quickly sprinkle three big spoons according to the size recipe you're using — I use a big one of instant coffee on the remaining fudge. ADD NOTHING ELSE. Mix well and dump this into your last pan.

You've got the most delicious butter-coffee-sweets you ever shook a stick at.

You'll absolutely drool. Wonderful for after dinner desserts and at parties, too.

And think: Three different kinds of candies came out of one recipe with very little extra effort on your part.

Try it next time.

Scott Romneys Begin Honeymoon Trip Today

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, AP—Newlyweds Ronna and George Scott-Romney today began a two-week honeymoon in New York and Bermuda, as their parents relaxed after a busy round of receptions this week-end.

The young couple was honored Sunday at an afternoon-long reception at the home of the bride's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harry Kraus.

Young Romney, the son of Michigan's governor, and the former Ronna Eileen Stern were married Wednesday at the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City. Gov. George Romney took time out from shaking hands with some 400 guests and chopping finger sandwiches to sign autographs for neighborhood children.

Youngsters in Bermuda shorts and striped jersey shirts peered through a hedge into the Kraus backyard, which was almost completely covered by a tent housing tables laden with food. There was a bar dispensing beer, champagne and whisky between the tent and the 12-room white colonial house. "Can we have your autograph?" they called to Romney.

Grimacing broadly, the governor pulled out a small pad of paper and pen and spent some 15 minutes with the children.

Mark Kraus, the bride's 8-year-old half-brother, stuck by the governor's elbow, hand outstretched.

"To Mark," Romney wrote. "Search diligently, pray always and be believing."

Meanwhile, young Romney and his petite blue-eyed bride accepted wedding gifts and greetings from the guests, who included Lt. Gov. and Mrs. William Milliken and House Speaker and Mrs. Robert Waldron. R-Grosse Pointe.

Ronna, with ash-blond hair piled atop her head, wore the black and white striped silk suit she donned for her wedding.

Mrs. B. Moraco Is Awarded Master's Degree

Mrs. Beverly Moraco

Mrs. Beverly A. Moraco, Portage Point Road, was awarded a Master of Science degree in music education from Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn., on Friday, Aug. 18.

Mrs. Moraco has been an instructor of music in the Escanaba Area Public Schools for the past four years. Previous to this time, she had been director of vocal music in the Manistique Public Schools.

The 10 weeks of intensified study this summer included four music workshops. The first, a Choral Arts workshop, was directed by George Bragg, founder and director of the Texas Boy Choir, Fort Worth, Texas. Mrs. Moraco was selected by Mr. Bragg to solo with the workshop chorale in the performance of the "Kyrie" of Schubert's "Mass in G."

Other workshops included an Elementary School Music workshop with Dr. Eleanor Tipton, professor of music education at Northern Illinois University; a String Conference workshop with Dr. Shinichi Suzuki, world renowned violin instructor from Matsuyama, Japan; and a Wind and Percussion workshop. Attending the graduation from Escanaba were Mrs. Sylvia Glaeser, 815 S. 15th St., and the three Moraco children. Also in attendance at the Mankato State ceremonies were Vice President and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, whose son Robert, received his Bachelor of Arts degree. Vice President Humphrey shook hands with and personally congratulated each of the 297 graduates.

Drugs From Sea Help To Mankind

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — Toned-down poisons from animals and plants of the sea may ultimately yield powerful new medicines for mankind, a scientist said today.

Prof. Ara Der Marderosian of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science made the forecast at a symposium on "Drugs from the Sea" being held at the University of Rhode Island.

Indeed, he said, one such toned-down toxin—a chemical called tetrodotoxin and derived from the puffer fish of the Pacific—already is in use by Japanese physicians as a muscle relaxant and as a pain killer in hopeless cases of cancer.

Two other researchers said a potentially paralyzing chemical—called saxitoxin and obtained from contaminated shellfish—appears to offer a lead toward improved local anesthetics for use in dentistry and minor surgery.

They indicated, however, that the research—at the U.S. Public Health Service Laboratory in Narragansett, R.I.—has so far been limited to experimental animals.

The symposium, being attended by more than 200 researchers from university, government and industrial laboratories is cosponsored by two scientific organizations and by the University of Rhode Island's College of Pharmacy.

Prof. Marderosian also listed

The tactless person needs all the help he can get from others.

several other new drugs, aside from the poison class, derived from creatures and plants of the sea.

These include: a chemical tapped from the "electric eel" and now used as a powerful antidote for pesticide poisoning, a versatile antibiotic wonder drug isolated from a fungus found in the Mediterranean, and a drug obtained from "Irish Moss" for use as a possible preventive for stomach ulcers.

Pasty, Cranberry, U.P. State Honor Candidates

DETROIT (AP) — Mechanical

pickers, tasty pasty, Christmas trees, a fruit market, hardy azaleas.

Take your pick—but pick only one.

That's the problem today facing judges of the Michigan Agricultural Development of the Year Contest.

Results will be announced Wednesday at the Michigan State Fair.

Judges' duty is to select one of the 12 regional award winners as the development which shows the most significance in agricultural advancement in Michigan.

Here's a look at some of the products:

Pickle harvester, Bailey—The machine will pick from one to three acres per hour, depending on the amount of foliage in the field. In some areas the machine has picked over 250 bushels to the acre. This, the company says, replaces approximately 80 hand-pickers.

Pasty in Running

Tasty pasty, Marquette — meat, potatoes, vegetables and seasoning turned a 1948 Upper Peninsula coffee shop and grill into a burgeoning food business which last year produced enough pasties to stretch for five miles if laid end to end. Pasty producers, the Robert Lawrey family, contend their business helped put pasties on the Michigan map.

Christmas trees, Cheboygan—Nicholas Lentini planted some trees in Emmet County back in 1954. This year maintains a planting schedule of 250,000 trees on over 3,500 acres in three counties.

Fruit market, Benton Harbor — The city of Benton Harbor has invested or committed itself to invest over $1 million in a new 23-acre fruit market to replace a market begun in the 1860s. The market expects to handle more than 50 per cent of locally grown strawberries, almost 40 per cent of the peaches and more than 40 per cent of the tomatoes.

Hardy azaleas, Columbiaville — Over the past 21 years, Arthur Elliott has worked for the rebirth of the azalea, traditionally a southern flower, as a decorative landscape plant in the North Central United States.

Cherry Nuggets

Cherry Nuggets, Traverse City — The nugget are dried red tart cherries used in candy, bread and cookies and snacks. The product manufacturer says the dried cherries will save money for producers, since the same container and space now used for 25 pounds of frozen cherries can be used for 140 pounds in dried form.

Great Lakes Forestry Exposition, Mio — The first such exposition in 1960 brought 2,500 spectators to Mio. Some 30,000 attended this year's show. "It is the purpose of this show," the exposition report says, "to emphasize the importance of good land management practices, to encourage good stewardship of the land and to participate in the many outdoor recreational opportunities."

Other developments under consideration include:

Cranberries For U. P. — Marl spreading machine, Mason — This machine "promises to make the abundant deposits of Michigan's marl a competitive source of liming materials," reports a Michigan State University agriculture extension agent. Marl is a source of lime.

Cranberries, Newberry — An experimental cranberry growing project in Luce County shows the berries can be harvested in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and may prove that area suitable for competitive cranberry growing.

Trees in sterile stamp sand, Houghton — Project workers have planted trees in stamp sand, a mineral material left after rock extracted from area mines has been reprocessed for copper ore. Hopes are that the trees will live in the sand, which covers some 1,200 acres in Houghton and Keweenaw counties.

Also included in the contest are a mechanical blueberry harvester from Grand Haven and a "sodwinder" from Melvindale.

Bear Season Opens Friday

LANSING (AP) — Hunters out to bag a bear or shoot a wild turkey for Thanksgiving should be prepared.

The 15-day Upper Peninsula bear season opens Friday.

And Sept. 25 is the postmark deadline for applications for turkey permits. Hunters must have a small game license in addition to the permit, issued free by the Conservation Department.

Only 1,400 permits will be issued for the Nov. 3-12 turkey season in the Mio, Baldwin and Beaver Island areas. If the number of applicants tops the quota, eligible hunters will be determined by a drawing.

The bear season will be open to archers as well as firearm hunters. The use of dogs will be permitted. Cubs are off limits to hunters.

Bear licenses will be available from Conservation Department district offices throughout the state and at a number of Upper Peninsula field offices.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection in ointment or suppository form.

Then she called my doctor, who was out of town. I finally got my sister's telephone number across to her.

My sister arrived just as the policeman was ready to break in.

The operator's patience and understanding was wonderful. I wish I could thank her personally. A person in insulin shock sounds very much like a drunk. I wouldn't have blamed her if she had hung up.

Iversons Snare Top Honors In Norway Racing

NORWAY — The Iverson brothers — Bob, Ken and Herb of Hyde — made it a family affair in the Sunday night stock car races at Norway.

Bob won the second heat for modifieds and was leading in the feature when car trouble forced him to drop from the race. Ken took over and headed the field to the finish line.

In one of the best races of the year, Herb captured the sportsman's feature, but only after a fine show of sportsmanship by Dick Peterson of Ensign.

Peterson battled Iverson for the lead for 10 laps, but couldn't catch him. Then, on the final lap, Peterson bumped the rear of Iverson's car, forcing him to spin out on the last corner. Peterson, who had the race won, slowed his car to a near halt, allowing Iverson to get back on the track and take the checkered flag.

Jerry Richer of Schaffer set a fast pace in the time trials but car trouble wiped him out for the rest of the night.

The U.P. Racing promoters announced that 30 of the top modified cars from Milwaukee will run in Escanaba the first Sunday night after Labor Day and will move to the Norway track the next night.

Modified
First heat — Pete Peterson, Escanaba; Ed Provo, Escanaba.
Second heat — Bob Iverson, Hyde; Art Rupert Sr., Escanaba.

Sportsmen
Feature — Ken Iverson, Hyde; Art Rupert Jr., Art Rupert Sr., Kingsford; Russ Nelson, Escanaba.
First heat — Steve Ackerman, Kingsford; Russ Nelson, Escanaba.

Second heat — Jim Beauchamp Jr., Quinnesec; Fran LaFave, Iron Mt.

Third heat — Herb Iverson, Hyde; Dick Peterson, Ensign.
Semi-feature — Dan Hill, Kingsford; Fran LaFave, Iron Mountain.
Feature — Herb Iverson, Dick Peterson.

Time trials — Modified, Jerry Richer, 18.88; Sportsmen, Buck Hasenberger, Ironwood, 20.63.

Races will be held in Escanaba Wednesday night and at Norway Saturday and Sunday nights for the Dickinson County Fair.

Kalamazoo Wins Baseball Title

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — John Schukker cracked a two-run homer and drove in a total of four runs as Kalamazoo beat Dearborn-Redford 16-5 Sunday and won its 10th Michigan Amateur Baseball Association championship.

The title clincher was Kalamazoo's fifth straight victory in the tournament at Battle Creek. Earlier Sunday the team eliminated Jackson 9-5.

Dearborn-Redford, which had lost 13-11 to Kalamazoo in a preliminary round, reached the championship contest by defeating Pontiac 7-6 in 10 innings.

Kalamazoo and Dearborn-Redford automatically qualified to play in the State Marshal East Regional Tournament beginning Friday at Battle Creek.

One Bad Pitch

Homerun Ruins Sparma's Hopes

KANSAS CITY (AP) — One pitch ruined Joe Sparma's otherwise slick game Sunday.

Jim Northrup had blasted a tremendous homer and the Detroit Tigers held a 1-0 lead over Kansas City.

But in the bottom of the fourth, Sparma gave up a single to Danny Cater. Then came the bad one, a pitch that Ramon Webster sent screaming over the right field screen and Detroit lost, 2-1. It left the Tigers in fourth place in the American League, 1½ games behind leading Minnesota.

Sparma allowed just five hits, but lost his seventh game against 13 victories.

The Tigers rapped only five hits off Roberto Rodriguez and Paul Lindblad, and there was no one on base when Northrup homered.

The shot was the third in a row by a Tiger to reach Brooklyn Avenue beyond the rightfield wall. The ball actually hit a new barrier, but Northrup was given credit for hitting the 12th home run in history onto the avenue.

Ed Mathews and Norm Caschidit previously during the series for Detroit.

Detroit left nine men stranded as Rodriguez gave up four walks.

Lennie Green singled with one out in the seventh for Detroit's fourth hit. Green went to second when centerfielder Rick Monday threw wildly to the infield.

But Luke Appling called in Lindblad. He struck out Cash on three pitches and got Dick McAuliffe on a grounder.

Lindblad set the Tigers down in order in the eighth. In the ninth, Bill Freehan led off with a single, but Mickey Stanley and Jim Price went out on fly balls to short center. Green grounded out to first to end the game.

The Tigers ended the season with a 6-3 mark against the A's at Kansas City. The Athletics have five games left in Tiger Stadium.

Detroit opens a series with California tonight. Mickey Lolich will start the first game of a four-game series for Detroit.

Jerry Lumpe was honored by fans from his nearby home town of Warsaw, Mo., and from Springfield, where he now lives. He got a new car and a boat, but went hitless.

Patience Pays Off, Sox Earn Split With Boston

By The Associated Press
Eddie Stanky's hit sign wasn't doing him much good so the Chicago White Sox skipper adapted to the conditions and switched to a waiting game.

Stanky's patience paid off in a run with a hit that gave the White Sox a 1-0 11-inning victory and a split of a Sunday doubleheader with Boston.

The Red Sox took the opener 4-3 with Carl Yastrzemski, slugging his 33rd and 34th home runs of the season. The split, combined with Minnesota's 6-3 victory over Cleveland, moved the Twins into first place, one percentage point in front of Boston. Chicago is third, one game back and Detroit, which lost 2-1 to Kansas City, is fourth, 1 1/2 behind.

The White Sox, whose team batting average is hovering around .230—ninth best in the American League—had managed just four hits against Jose Santiago and Darrell Brandon in the nightcap. In the 11th inning, Stanky decided to stop swinging and start waiting.

Brandon, who had taken over in the 10th when Santiago collided with catcher Mike Ryan and injured his knee, obliged nicely.

The tall reliever walked Duane Josephson opening the 11th. Ron Hansen sacrificed and Brandon then purposely walked pinch hitter Smokey Burgess, who was swinging for winner Gary Peters.

Joel Horlen ran for Burgess and Brandon wild pitched the runners to second and third. He bore down and got Ken Boyer son along the third base line. Horlen reached third and Boyer first on the play.

Don Buford walked, loading the bases and then pinch hitter Rocky Colavito waited out Brandon's fourth pass of the innings, forcing Horlen across.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York belted Washington 8-2 and California's doubleheader at Baltimore was postponed by rain. In the National League, St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 6-2, Cincinnati outslugged Houston 11-8, San Francisco split with Atlanta, winning 2-0 and then losing 4-1, Chicago topped New York 3-1 in a game ended by rain after seven innings and Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 in a 4 1/2 inning rain-shortened game.

Jim Merritt hurled a seven-hitter for the Twins and Rod Carew and Rich Rollins smashed home runs.

Joe Azcue, who was robbed of a homer in the second when Ted Uhlaender made a spectacular catch in center field, tagged a two-run shot in the ninth for Cleveland.

Merritt struck out eight and ran his record to 10-4.

Tom Tresh drove in four runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Ruben Amaro ripped a three-run homer as the Yankees dropped the Senators. Frank Howard homered for Washington.

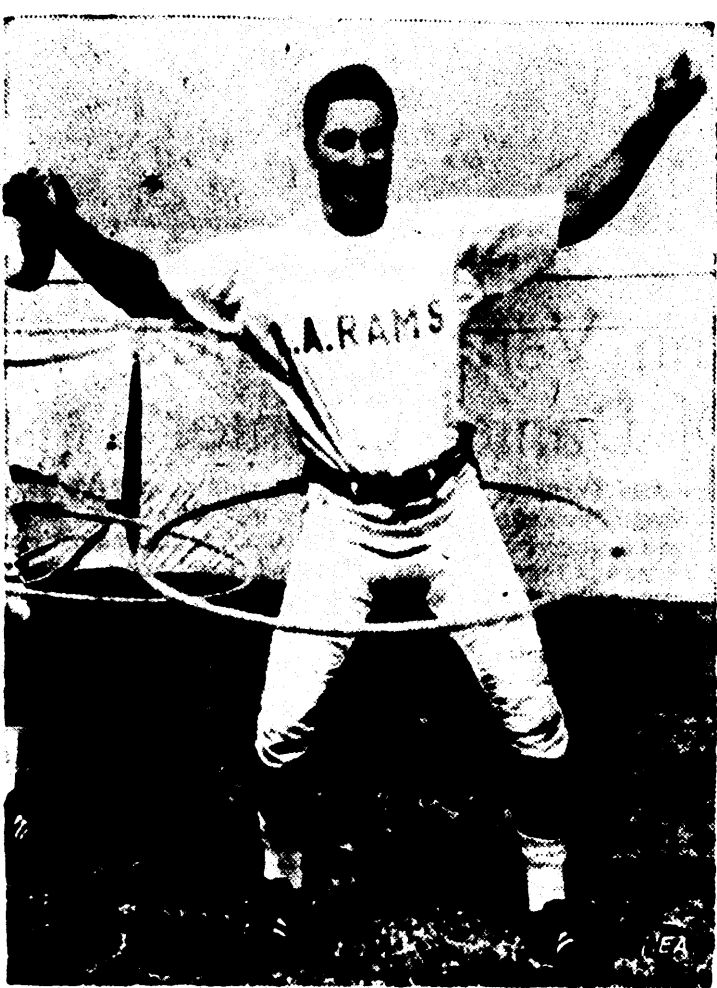

SOMETHING'S MISSING, or so it seems. The camera caught two horses in a dead heat and it appears there's one jockey.

Bob Smith Adds Another Trophy

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bob Smith left California with Ron Cerrudo in July to play some golf. Eight weeks and 10,000 miles later they're in the National Amateur at Colorado Springs and Smith is running out of places to put his trophies.

The Western Amateur at Milliken Country Club was a doubleheader sweep for Smith, two more trophies. He collected the medalist trophy Thursday with a 280, then bagged the big crown Saturday with his fourth straight match play victory, 3 and 1 over Marty Fleckman.

Smith must be one of the best amateur golfers to be a first-timer at the USGA's big event. He has won two Western crowns and two Porter Cup titles in the past three years.

This summer was his best. He was low amateur in the Western Open at 286, was third in the Eastern at 280, reached the Trans-Miss second round and won the Western, Porter, California Amateur and San Francisco City Amateur.

Bowling Notes

The City Industrial League will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Bowl.

The Escanaba Bowling Assn. will hold its annual meeting at 7:30 this evening at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Tipton Breaks Meet Record

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Bill Tipton, 18-year-old hurdler from Pontiac, Mich., set one meet record and tied another as he led Michigan to the team title in the U.S. Jaycee Track and Field Championships.

Tipton whipped off an 18.4 time in the 180-yard low hurdles for a 10-yard victory. His performance Saturday topped former Alabama star Richmond Flowers' 1965 record by two-tenths of a second.

His second victory came in the 120-yard high hurdles where his 13.4 clocking tied the meet standard he set in the preliminaries Friday.

Teammate Herb Washington of Flint scored an upset victory in the 100-yard dash. His 9.4-second time was below the meet record but was not allowed because of an aiding 10-minute wind.

Michigan's 11-man team scored 25 1/2 points to outdistance defending champion California, which had 23 points.

Arizona Kegler Sets New Mark

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., knocked down more pins in a 40-game tournament than any man in history as he won the Professional Bowlers Association $27,500 Green Bay Open Sunday.

The 6-2, 155-pounder totaled 9,316, breaking the world record of 9,283 held by Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, Calif., set in the 1963 Los Angeles Open.

Davis won the tournament by 350 pins as he totaled 9,866 for the 40 games. This included 550 bonus pins for winning 11 of his 16 matches in Sunday's play.

Jim Chestney of Denver finished second with 9,516. Chestney moved from 14th place into the runnerup spot as he won 13 of his 16 matches.

U.S. Doubles Title On Way

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—The U.S. National Doubles tennis championship was headed abroad for the third straight year today with the first all-foreign final since 1960 assured in the 87th annual tournament at Longwood.

America's last hopes for regaining the title won by Australians the last two years were dashed Sunday as Aussies Owen Davidson and Bill Bowrey, the No. 2 foreign seed, whipped U.S. Davis Cup teammates Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 4-6, 6-3, 6-11, 6-3, 6-4.

Sports In Brief

The world's first crude lamp probably appeared about 30,000 years ago. This was a shallow, Purdue's 1967 football team will have the most seniors playing this fall—24.

Ohio State will lead Big Ten teams in sophomore football players this fall with 42.

Ohio State will have only 11 seniors playing football this fall.

Mrs. Daniel Grenier

Ann VanHorn Bride Of Daniel Grenier

Miss Ann VanHorn chose a white linen street-length sheath dress with a white lace coat for her marriage to Daniel Grenier Saturday, Aug. 19 at All Saints Catholic Church in Gladstone.

Her shoulder length veil was attached to a matching pillbox and she carried a bouquet of white roses and daisies. Msgr. Matt LaViolette solemnized the vows during the 11 a.m. double ring ceremony.

The student choir provided the traditional wedding music. Bouquets of white gladiolus and yellow mums adorned the church altars.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert VanHorn of 1222 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Grenier, 1215 Wisconsin Ave.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Susan, as maid of honor. She wore a yellow lace sheath dress with matching headpiece and veil and carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Frank Geron served as best man and Jack VanHorn and Robert Grenier, brothers of the couple, performed the ushering duties.

The wedding dinner for immediate members of both families was served at the Shorewood Inn. The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the Terrace.

Honeymoon Trip

Following their honeymoon trip to Canada, the couple will reside at 1505 1/2 Montana Ave.

Both young people are graduates of Gladstone High School and the bridegroom has completed four years service with the U.S. Navy. Mrs. Grenier is employed as a clerk at the First National Bank.

Special guests included the grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. Frances VanHorn of Escanaba and Mrs. Henry Heric of Gladstone. Out of town guests attended from Mankato, Minn., Milwaukee, Marquette and Iron Mountain.

Senators Set Up Probe Into Riots

LANSING (AP) — The special Senate Crime Investigating Committee, recently expanded to look into last month's rioting in several Michigan cities, has set tentative dates for four public hearings.

In its first meeting, attended by three of the eight members, the committee suggested hearings on Sept. 13 and 20 in Detroit, Sept. 27 in Lansing and Sept. 28 in Grand Rapids.

More hearings are likely, said committee Chairman James Fleming, R-Jackson, after the special legislative session, which

Gov. George Romney has said he will call for Oct. 10.

Fleming emphasized that the dates of the four hearings depend on agreement by absent members and on availability of meeting space.

Fleming, a former Jackson County prosecutor, said the hearings will deal with the overall and suggested legislative action.

He said the committee, made up of four Republicans and four Democrats, will deal with the July riots, which left 44 persons dead in Detroit and spread to several outstate cities. "As a part of the over-all crime picture."

"We want to know since when has it become legal for people to help themselves to other people's property—and that's what happened during the riots," said Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit.

Fleming, Rozycki, and Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, agreed that the committee should hear testimony from anyone with constructive information to offer in the areas under study.

Dean Burns, Senate counsel who has been assigned to work with the committee, was to send letters to representatives of local governments, state and local police and the judges, inviting them or their representatives to testify.

The senators agreed that they wanted to hear not only from police officers, but also from "the cop on the beat."

A representative of the news media and probationary officers also were suggested as possible witnesses.

Although only four days were set for the first hearings, Fleming said "haste is the last thing we want," adding that "as much time as necessary" will be used to hear testimony.

Poll List Cuts Pain To Demos

LANSING (AP) — Deadwood or Democrats?

Which are the victims of a four-year-old law providing that voters' names will be removed from the registration rolls unless they vote or contact registrars within each two-year period?

Elections officials said the 1963 law affects mainly the "deadwood" in their files—registered voters who have moved and are no longer eligible to cast their ballots.

Some Democrats say the law is aimed at them.

"It hurts," Ferency

"Yes, it hurts," said State Democratic Chairman Zolton Ferency. "And we spend a lot of time and money before regular elections getting people to re-register. That's money that could be spent in other places to a better effect."

Before the 1963 act took effect a voter could keep his registration status by voting once each four years—for instance, in presidential elections only.

In 1963, the Republican Legislature changed that to two years. Twice in 1965, the Democratic Legislature passed bills returning to the four-year system. Republican Gov. George Romney vetoed both measures.

"I firmly believe," said Romney in his second veto message, "that the two-year requirement is a necessary adjunct to maintaining a current and permanent voter registration system and to insuring to the fullest degree honest elections."

Elections officials say a large number of outdated names on the precinct polls could encourage "graveyard" voting—partisans illegally casting extra ballots while posing as somebody else.

City Dwellers Move

Statistics show the shorter renewal period has more effect in big cities than in rural areas. Democrats say that proves they're the victims, because they draw most of their political strength from the cities.

Elections officials say it proves only that the cities' populations are more mobile—that city dwellers move frequently, like to the suburbs or to industrial jobs in other cities or states.

State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery says the effect of the law "is not very much in the rural communities."

Bay City Civil Defense Leader Called Embezzler

BAY CITY (AP) — Testimony continued today in the embezzlement trial of James Tanner, head of the Bay City Civil Defense office.

Tanner, 33, is charged with embezzlement and comingling of public money with his private funds.

A prosecution witness testified earlier in the trial, now in its fifth week, that Tanner, former Bay County Civil Defense director, acknowledged in 1965 that he "must have spent" money paid to him for Civil Defense equipment.

Emil Tahovnen, of the Michigan auditor's office, said Tanner admitted on Dec. 2, 1965 in the presence of several state officials that he apparently spent a check for $254.88 which he had received from the Bay County Road Commission.
